

About Capgemini

For forty-five years, Capgemini has served the strategic, technological, and operational needs of local and national governments around the world to help them fulfill their missions and drive their transformation agendas. Capgemini is one of the largest providers of consulting, technology, and outsourcing services in the world, with a global workforce of more than 120,000 employees in 40 countries and annual revenues of $13.5 billion. In 2002, Capgemini Government Solutions was founded to offer US Government agencies deep transformation, consulting, and IT expertise.

Government agencies are faced with organizational consolidation, tightening budgets, constrained resources, increased need for cross-enterprise integration, and an aging workforce. As a leading provider of services in the public sector, Capgemini understands what is required to accelerate business decision making, increase productivity, improve quality in project delivery, and provide the services vital to effectively managing a program. We've helped key federal clients such as the Departments of Defense, Homeland Security, Justice and Treasury, as well as municipalities and states such as, Ohio, Nevada, Georgia, New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and Virginia implement programs, transform their organizations, and solve some of their toughest issues.
