
PwC Support to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and Component Agencies

PwC works with the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and its component agencies to — www.pwc.com/publicsector

- Improve organizational structures, processes, systems, and doctrines. PwC supports DHS and component efforts to achieve greater efficiencies and effectiveness in the performance of ongoing and new initiatives related to financial operations and emergency operations.
- Manage risk. PwC helps DHS and component agencies transform from a resource-based approach to a risk-based approach by integrating operational and future state assessments. Once captured, operational information will be used to estimate risk, determine a risk mitigation plan, and implement mitigation activities.
- Deliver “Whole of Government” approaches. PwC has experience in supporting multiple DHS component agencies providing expertise in helping DHS and component agencies establish a unity of purpose, advancing operational integration and creating integrated partnerships to meet departmental and agency goals and objectives.
- Leverage existing and emerging technology. PwC supports and fosters the ability for DHS and component agencies to gain situational awareness to better detect, identify, monitor, and respond to issues that significantly impact optimal performance of Department and component capabilities.
- Support intelligence driven operations. PwC supports intelligence driven operations that provide the capacity to develop timely, well-formulated, and actionable intelligence to the prevention and disruption of threats. PwC can support an integrated intelligence platform that promotes information sharing throughout the domestic and foreign public safety community.

How We Deliver Value to Department of Homeland Security and Component Agencies

➤ Aligning PwC services to DHS and component agency strategic, operational and technical solution requirements to put mission-critical capabilities and information into the hands of DHS and component agents, officers and mission support personnel.

About PwC

PwC services the federal government through our Public Sector Practice. PwC has over 2,500 professionals based in the Washington Metro area. Our mission is to be the U.S. Federal Government's preferred provider of advisory services. We help government agencies solve complex business issues, manage risk and add value to performance through our comprehensive service offerings in human capital, financial management, governance, risk and compliance, enterprise effectiveness, program management, and technology all of which are delivered seamlessly throughout the world.

Our clients look to PwC as a leader in providing advisory services. PwC delivers advisory services that support the government's move toward a more citizen-centric, performance-based delivery model. As the federal government strives to meet the demands of the nation's citizens, changes are required in developing and supporting department-wide strategies, managing risk and compliance, and harnessing business intelligence and analytical capabilities. Our advisory professionals bring direct hands-on knowledge of federal standards for systems, internal controls and financial reporting.

DHS has named PwC's Risk Management Mitigation Planning Services (RMMPS) as a "Qualified Anti-Terrorism Technology" and placed RMMPS on the "Approved Products List". PwC has aligned its processes and methodologies with the DHS National Infrastructure Protection Plan (NIPP) framework. PwC is one of the few professional services firms that have received SAFETY Act Certification.

For more information, please contact:

John Saad (Principal)
(703) 918-1012
john.saad@us.pwc.com

Chris Clarke (Director)
(703) 918-1553
christian.k.clarke@us.pwc.com

Patricia Todaro Bolin (Director)
(703) 918-3656
patricia.todaro.bolin@us.pwc.com